

JVCKENWOOD Corporate Governance Policy

Established: December 1, 2015

Amended: June 25, 2025

Chapter 1 General Provisions

(Purpose)

Article 1

JVCKENWOOD Corporation (the “Company”) has set out its Corporate Governance Policy to establish a corporate governance system with the aim of achieving sustainable growth and enhancing corporate value over the medium to long term.

Chapter 2 Ensuring the Rights of Shareholders and Dialogue with Shareholders

(General Meeting of Shareholders)

Article 2

- 1 The Company regards the General Meeting of Shareholders as its supreme decision-making body, and shall take appropriate measures to ensure the rights of shareholders and shall develop an environment for shareholders to exercise their rights in an appropriate manner.
- 2 The Company shall secure sufficient time for shareholders to review the meeting’s proposals through early disclosure and distribution of the notice of the General Meeting of Shareholders.
- 3 The Company shall develop an environment for all shareholders, including individual shareholders and institutional investors, to exercise their voting rights through diversified methods for this purpose, that is, a voting form in writing for the exercise of voting rights, adoption of an electronic voting system via the Internet for the exercise of voting rights, and participation in the platform for the exercise of voting rights for institutional investors.
- 4 The Company shall regard the General Meeting of Shareholders as one of the forums for dialogue with shareholders, to the extent that it schedules the date of the meeting in consideration of a time that is convenient for shareholders to attend as well as securing sufficient time for shareholders to review proposals.
- 5 The Company shall prepare an English translation of the notice of the General Meeting of Shareholders and post it on the Company’s website, as well as make it available through other means.
- 6 If there is a proposal by the Company that was resolved but opposed by a significant number of shareholders, the Board of Directors shall conduct a survey and an analysis of the result, refer such information to the Company’s management, and reflect the findings of the survey and analysis in the Company’s dialogues with shareholders, and in other activities, as necessary.

(Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders)

Article 3

The Company holds constructive dialogue with shareholders with the aim of achieving sustainable growth of the Group and enhancing corporate value over the medium to long term. Through such dialogue, the Company shall clearly convey its management policy to shareholders and endeavor to gain their understanding, providing the Company's management and the Board of Directors with feedback concerning the opinions and concerns of the shareholders obtained through dialogue, in the Company's efforts to enhance corporate value.

(Policy for Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders)

Article 4

- 1 The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Company shall assume the post of chair of the shareholders' meeting and pay careful attention as a supervisory manager to achieve constructive dialogue with shareholders in general, and the executive officer in charge of head of administrative division shall be responsible for all dialogue with shareholders. Each Director of the Board shall share the responsibility with consideration given to shareholders' requests, etc.
- 2 The Shareholder Relations (SR) Department shall be established under the Executive Officer in charge of Head of Administrative Division to serve as the secretariat for holding dialogues between the Company and its shareholders. The SR Department shall exchange information regularly with the supervisor, Directors, the Finance & Accounting Division, and other related parties, who are engaged in constructive dialogues with shareholders. The SR Department shall also exchange opinions regarding disclosure and the explanation of financial results and other matters, based on expertise in their respective fields, and work in cooperation to assist in the dialogue between the Company and its shareholders.
- 3 The Company shall endeavor to obtain the shareholders' understanding of management strategy and the business environment through financial results briefings, the disclosure of information on the Company's website, and other means.
- 4 Feedback concerning the dialogue between the Company and its shareholders shall be provided to the Board of Directors in a timely and appropriate manner, and actively utilized in the Company's medium- and long-term business development, and other matters.
- 5 The Company shall be well aware of the handling of insider information when holding dialogues with its shareholders, and shall conduct proper management and other treatment of insider information in accordance with the "Regulations for Timely Disclosure," "Administrative Regulations for Insider Information," and "Confidential Information Management Rules," prescribed separately. [Principle 5-1 Information to Be Disclosed]

(Basic Capital Policy)

Article 5

The Company shall make investments in line with its investment plan based on the investment policy set down in the medium-term management plan and concretely laid out in the annual plan, and adopt a financial plan that pursues an optimal capital structure towards improving return on capital. In addition, the Company shall consider a balance between reductions in net interest-bearing debt and investments, and pursue optimization of sufficient consolidated working capital. The Company shall pay attention to the balance between stable shareholder returns in the form of dividends and the securing investment resources for growth businesses.

(Policy on Strategic Shareholdings)

Article 6

- 1 In the course of its business, the Company may hold shares in other companies whose business it expects to maintain and further expand. Such shareholdings include shares of companies held based on capital and business alliances concluded with the aim of achieving growth and developing the Company's businesses, and shares held for the purpose of maintaining and strengthening business relationships. In the meantime, the Company shall verify the need for the Company to hold shares held based on past results every year by comprehensively examining the benefits, risks, capital costs and other factors associated with holding for each individual share and dispose of shares that the Company no longer needs to hold as much.
- 2 Acquisition and disposal of strategic shareholdings shall be determined based on a materiality standard determined by the Board of Directors and executed by the body specified by the approval standard.
- 3 With respect to the exercise of voting rights concerning the shareholdings, the Company shall comprehensively determine, after reviewing proposals at the General Meeting of Shareholders, whether the contents of the proposals can enhance the corporate value of the companies in which the Company holds shares. The Company shall also assess such proposals in terms of their conformity with the reason for holding the shareholdings, and their impact on the Company. In addition, the Company shall confirm the companies whose shares it holds with regard to the intent of the proposals, whenever necessary. [Principle 1-4 Information to Be Disclosed]
- 4 If any corporation or other entity which holds shares in the Company through strategic shareholding (a shareholder of strategic shareholdings) indicates its intention to sell or otherwise dispose of the shares it holds, the Company shall not present any condition that would be disadvantageous to the shareholder of strategic shareholdings, such as reducing transactions due to said sale, and deal with it, respecting the intention of the shareholder of strategic shareholdings to the maximum extent possible, while fully understanding the intention of the Corporate Governance Code and the intention of the shareholder of strategic shareholdings.
- 5 Even in a transaction with strategic shareholders, the Company shall carefully avoid any unfair transaction which may harm the common benefits of corporations and shareholders attributable to strategic shareholdings. It shall do this by conducting individual transactions based on opinions and cross-checking of a large number of persons including senior officers in other departments through the course of the decision-making process of the Board of Directors, etc., while examining the economic rationality.

(Transactions with Related Parties)

Article 7

When the Company conducts transactions with its Officers, principal shareholders, or other related parties, it shall take the following procedures to ensure that said transactions will not harm the interests of the Company and common interests of shareholders.

- (1) If the Company conducts transactions that involve conflicts of interest under the Companies Act, or that could cause conflicts of interest, the Company shall obtain prior approval from, as well as make an ex post facto report to, the Board of Directors in accordance with laws, regulations, and the Board of Directors Rules. In addition, the Company shall prepare a confirmation note of a survey regarding whether transactions with Directors or their close relatives were conducted. Any important transaction conducted shall be reported to the Board of Directors.
- (2) Similar procedures shall be required for transactions with principal shareholders or other related parties.
- (3) Transactions with related parties shall be disclosed in accordance with the Companies Act, Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, and other applicable laws and regulations, as well as the rules of the Tokyo Stock Exchange. [Principle 1-7 Information to Be Disclosed]

Chapter 3 Appropriate Cooperation with Stakeholders

(Relationships with Stakeholders)

Article 8

The Company places importance on promoting sustainability activities through its business activities. Accordingly, we will continue to create products and services that solve social issues. At the same time, we will endeavor to establish appropriate relationships with all stakeholders, in order to continue achieving sustainable growth and enhancing corporate value, while playing a part in the development of a sustainable society by contributing to solving social issues through our businesses.

[Supplementary Principle 2-4 1) Information to Be Disclosed]
- 2 As part of efforts for ensuring diversity in the workplace, the Company shall work to develop a framework for education and training that assists in the growth of each employee and to create a safe and pleasant work environment. [Supplementary Principle 2-4 1) Information to Be Disclosed]
- 3 The Company determines its view on securing diversity in, for example, appointing its core human resources and voluntary, measurable goals, and discloses the status. [Supplementary Principle 2-4 1) Information to Be Disclosed]

(Whistle-blowing)

Article 12

- 1 The Company shall establish the “Regulations for the JVCKENWOOD GROUP Whistle-blowing System” as a procedure for whistle-blowing and reform with regard to activities that deviate from the “JVCKENWOOD GROUP Compliance Code of Conduct,” as well as for monitoring and protecting whistle-blowers from receiving unfavorable treatment.
- 2 “Regulations for the JVCKENWOOD GROUP Whistle-blowing System” stipulates the confidentiality of whistle-blowers and the prohibition of unfavorable treatment if information is provided through the whistle-blowing system.
- 3 The reception desk for a Whistle-blowing System shall be established at the Internal Governance Department, Audit & Supervisory Committee Office, and an external third-party organization.

(Roles of corporate pension funds as asset owners)

Article 12-2

- 1 With regard to the Company’s corporate pension fund (the “Fund”), the fund management shall be entrusted to a professional investment manager, and the selection of individual investees and exercise of voting rights shall be left to the discretion of such investment manager to avoid conflicts of interest between beneficiaries of the corporate pension and the Company.
- 2 The Company shall dispatch commissioners to the Fund as well as employ officers and employees with expertise in the Fund so that the Fund can improve its expertise in fund management, and exercise the expected functions such as monitoring of the investment manager. Further, the Company shall ensure the soundness of the overall Fund management through regular deliberation, etc. with the Fund. [Principle 2 - 6 Information to Be Disclosed]

Chapter 4 Ensuring Appropriate Disclosure of Information and Transparency

(Disclosure of Information)

Article 13

In conformity with the “Regulations for Timely Disclosure,” the Company shall appropriately disclose financial and non-financial information in accordance with the Companies Act, Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, and other applicable laws and regulations, as well as the rules of the Tokyo Stock Exchange. The Company shall also voluntarily provide information other than the disclosed information in accordance with laws and regulations.

Chapter 5 Responsibilities of the Board of Directors and Other Decision-Making Bodies

(Roles and System of the Board of Directors)

Article 14

- 1 The Company shall regard the Board of Directors as its fundamental and strategic decision-making body, as well as a supervisory and monitoring body for business execution. The Board of Directors shall have a regular meeting once a month and an extraordinary meeting as necessary to discuss and resolve basic policies and important matters relating to the management as well as to supervise and monitor the status of business execution.
- 2 Directors shall have a fiduciary responsibility to shareholders. The Company shall adopt an organizational structure of a company with an Audit & Supervisory Committee in which the term of office of Directors who are not Audit & Supervisory Committee Members is one year to ensure clarification of their responsibilities and swift and decisive management.
- 3 The Board of Directors comprises persons with diverse experience, achievements, expertise, and insights, and the number of Directors is prescribed in the Articles of Incorporation. The Board of Directors shall also actively appoint External Directors to promote highly transparent decision-making and take the initiative in corporate reform and governance.
- 4 The Board of Directors shall develop and revise the Company’s corporate vision, management policy, and code of conduct to establish the goals of the Company. In addition, it sets the strategic direction of the Company through the development of management strategies and business plans.
- 5 The Company shall introduce an Executive Officer System under which the functions of business execution are divided and management responsibility and business execution responsibility are clarified. With the aim of developing an environment for the establishment of the Executive Officer System, the Company shall develop internal rules of corporate governance, such as the “Board of Directors Rules,” “Executive Officers Committee Rules,” “Administrative Authority Regulations,” “Regulations for Segregation of Duties,” and “Standards for Decision-Making and Authority,” and clarify the duties, authority and responsibility of Directors, Executive Officers, and divisions to develop an environment for supporting appropriate risk-taking in business execution. The Board of Directors, which takes the initiative in

- corporate reform and governance, shall hold active discussions between External Directors and Directors concurrently serving as Executive Officers to make decisions and shall entrust the business execution to Executive Officers. [Supplementary Principle 4-1 1) Information to Be Disclosed]
- 6 The Board of Directors shall elect promising persons as successors to the Chief Executive Officer and other senior management, by taking their achievements and abilities, among other attributes, into consideration, both internally and externally, promote them to important posts within the Company as necessary, encourage their involvement with management to cultivate their knowledge, experience, and abilities as business managers and determine their aptitude as successors. External Directors provide advice and recommendations to ensure the validity and appropriateness of the election and dismissal of Executive Officers and other senior management.
- 7 The Board of Directors shall develop the whistle-blowing system and oversee its operation.
- 8-1 The Board of Directors shall include Directors who do not have the potential to generate conflicts of interest with general shareholders, to ensure the effectiveness of the supervisory functions of management with their experience, achievements, expertise, insights, and other attributes, and establish a highly effective supervisory system for the execution of duties by Executive Directors and Executive Officers.
- 8-2 The Board of Directors shall establish the Nomination and Remuneration Advisory Committee consisting of all Independent External Directors who are not Audit & Supervisory Committee Members, one External Director who is Audit & Supervisory Committee Member and the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) in order to strengthen its functions, independence, and objectivity. The majority of the committee members shall be Independent External Directors, out of which a chairperson is elected. [Supplementary Principle 4-10 1) Information to Be Disclosed]
- 8-3 The Nomination and Remuneration Advisory Committee shall submit a proposal for a candidate for the Company's representative and, as necessary, a successor plan to the Board of Directors. The committee shall also examine a candidate for a director and a proposal for director remuneration from the perspective of diversity and skills, etc., and provide opinions to the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors shall respect the opinions of the Nomination and Remuneration Advisory Committee in determining a candidate for a director and part of director remuneration. [Supplementary Principle 4-10 1) Information to Be Disclosed]
- 9 The Board of Directors shall receive a report on the status of business execution from Executive Officers and other senior management responsible for business execution through discussions at its meetings. Each Director shall supervise the status of management by pointing out management issues and providing comments on such reports as necessary. Through discussions at the Board of Directors, each Director shall evaluate the business performance, and other matters, of the Company by understanding the status of management and execution of businesses in the fields where each Director is not in charge. Based on such evaluation, each Director shall discuss and deliberate on the appointment of Executive Officers and other senior management from an objective and independent viewpoint.
- 10-1 The Company shall establish the "Compliance Regulations," "Internal Control Regulations for Financial Reporting," "Basic Risk Management Rules," and other rules by resolution of the Board of Directors to develop a system that enables appropriate risk-taking by Executive Officers and other senior management who shall operate the system. The Board of Directors shall monitor the effectiveness of operations and provide comments and opinions by receiving reports on the status of operation of such system as necessary, and improve the system through revision and abolition of rules as required.

- 10-2 The Company shall establish the Regulation for Internal Audit by resolution of the Board of Directors. Based on an audit plan approved by the Board of Directors, the Internal Audit department reports to the Board of Directors and the Audit & Supervisory Committee on the status of internal controls and risks of Group companies and divisions through the Group's internal operational audits, based on which the Board of Directors supervises the status of operations. The Audit and Supervisory Committee supervises the Internal Audit department and gives the orders to them.
- 11 The Board of Directors shall supervise the allocation of management resources and strategies relating to the business portfolio so as to contribute to the Company's sustainable growth from the viewpoint of sustainability, improve the management system, and disclose the Group's sustainability initiatives. [Supplementary Principle 3-1 3) Information to Be Disclosed]
- 12 The Board of Directors shall regularly identify sustainability, receive reports on the status of initiatives, and address issues as necessary.

(Remuneration of Directors and Executive Officers)
